JUDGE:

RE: Speaking Invitation
 National Defense University
 Fort McNair, Washington, D.C.
 21 October 1987

Lt. Gen. Bradley C. Hosmer, USAF, President of the National Defense University (NDU), has invited you to speak at the University's Distinguished Lecture Program on Wednesday, 21 October, 1:30 p.m. or some convenient date at Fort McNair, Washington, D.C. Suggested topics are issues you face as Director of Central Intelligence and how intelligence influences the decision-making process of our policymakers in the field of national security. A suggested format is 45 minutes of remarks followed by a question and answer period of approximately 30 minutes or any other time frame that you would prefer. You could expect an audience of 470 high level military and civilian employees. Since twelve foreign nations are participating in portions of the curriculum, foreign nationals could be in the audience if the program is unclassified. According to the University, when briefings are classified an alternate program is made available for non US citizens. About half the programs are given on a classified level. All remarks are nonattributable and the media does not attend.

During the academic year, the University expects Caspar Weinberger to speak as well as George Shultz, Frank Carlucci, Admiral William Crowe, Ambassador Vernon Walters, and James C. Miller. Both Admiral Turner and Bill Casey participated in this lecture series.

The National Defense University is made up of three colleges which include the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, the Armed Forces Staff College, and the National War College. In 1980 you spoke at the National War College.

I recommend that you accept this invitation. I believe that you should give a classified briefing, since, in that way, you can use more substantive material that would benefit this audience. Due to your speaking engagement at Dartmouth on October 20th, however, I suggest that we make arrangements for another date. If you agree, I have attached a letter of acceptance to General Hosmer for your signature.

Dear General Hosmer:

Thank you for your invitation to speak at the National Defense University's Distinguished Lecture Program on Wednesday, October 21st or a convenient date, at Fort McNair. REPLY TO ATTENTION OF:

Office of the President

Honorable William Webster
Director of Central Intelligence
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Judge Webster:

I am pleased to invite you to address the students and faculties of the National Defense University at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, 21 October 1987 at Fort McNair.

We would like you to discuss the issues you face as Director of Central Intelligence. Your remarks on any facet of national security decisionmaking and defense policy/programs would be most appropriate to our curriculum.

Our lecture periods run about 45 minutes, followed by a question and answer session of approximately 30 minutes; but we are entirely flexible and can accommodate to your preferences. In any event we would plan to conclude the session by 3:00 p.m.

This year International Fellows from twelve allied and friendly nations will be participating in portions of the curriculum. Should your presentation be unclassified, we can easily arrange for them to attend.

If this date should prove inconvenient, we will gladly arrange an alternate time for your visit. Mr. Robert S. Hayes, from my staff, will contact your office regarding administrative details.

We look forward to your reply and hope the combined classes of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces and the National War College will have the pleasure of hearing you on 21 October.

Very respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "B. Hosmer", is written over the typed name.
